A revolution's success rests in the power of its beliefs. When enough people participate in the revolution, embracing its beliefs and acting upon them, an aspired goal is reached at. A status quo becomes no longer acceptable and everyone becomes a revolutionary. The purpose of our gathering this year is to bring a unique approach to revolts and revolutions investing in and building significant ideas that can hopefully share in changing our world. Usually the researcher finds much difficulty in defining the phenomenon of a revolution as
